After you've been in a relationship for a while, you're likely to encounter a time when the passion dies down. The twinkle in each other's eyes is but a memory. You'd agree that your health, peace of mind, financial well-being as a couple is heavily dependent on the depth of passion between you and your loved one.

Sadly, evidently 51% plus of couples that say "I do", after a while lose something along the way. After 12+ years of providing couples-based workshops to over 5000 couples, Satyen & Suzanne Raja believe that no amount of reconciliation, communication or education will get couples back on track. If it did then we'd have a declining divorce rate - however that is not the case. As of 2012 the divorce rate is steadily rising by 1% per year and it seems there is no stopping it. Or is there?

Satyen & Suzanne Raja have made it their life's mission to put a dent in the divorce rate by helping couples re-ignite their passion, for real, in a non-teachy, non-guru, non-clinical way. The secret to getting couples back on track is to help them re-experience "Polarity", just as magnets attract with north and south poles. Couples need the polarities of Control and Submission to get the attraction back... "Control and submission does not only fix passion problems, but it's also the mechanism that takes an already passionate relationship to a mind-blowing passion..." This control and submission can't be taught, it can only be experienced" Satyen exclaims with giddy enthusiasm...

Satyen and Suzanne have realized this in their 25+ years of being together and leading workshops for couples. The big epiphany in 2011 for Satyen and Suzanne was that it's not the information, knowledge or skills that make couples fall madly back in-love with each other. It is the experience of re-igniting the passion. "This experience is what makes it work - PERIOD. Suzanne says, "So we decided to step down as teachers/gurus and create an undeniable couple's experience to leave a lasting impression of love, connection and passion that couples can experience in the comfort of their own home..."

"We decided to step up and put ourselves out there", says Suzanne. "It's time someone stands for something worth standing for" - and as if they are sharing the same brain, they both said " We have decided to put a dent in 51% divorce rate! If not us, then who?"

This year, 50% of the marriages will go to divorce. Not a surprising statistic, right? What if I told you 35% of the remaining marriages lacked passion, playfulness, companionship and warm romantic sex? Call the medic, you'd say. Help is out there, but 90% of the marriage enrichment books bought will never be read. Couples attend relationship seminars but the notes are never reviewed, assignments are never completed.

We are drowning in a sea of advice, but not taking hold of the help available...

Many teachers, therapists, and so-called experts are talking the talk, but you and I both know they aren't walking the walk.

Now, what if there was a couple out there that walked their talk? Instead of sitting in front of a room teaching you, they actually did for themselves what they guide others in doing. A couple you can trust, and model your relationship after? A couple who could laugh at themselves, and could show you what's made their relationship stay sizzling hot after 25 years.

Would you want to see what makes this couple tick???

I know I would...

Well after years of seeing people talk, talk, talk, I finally found a couple (super cool btw) that actually walks their talk, for real.

You can trust these people. They're bringing it real. They talk to you, not at you. They let you into their primitive reactions, and show you how to THEY navigate them - A real experience of doing, not just yapping.

You know it is real with these two. They make each other laugh, blush and melt with love. He's so cool, he makes her forget what she was talking about. They surprise each other with their candidness, and we get to be there. They break the fourth wall of acting and talk to you, directly to your heart so it's a participatory experience.

They will coach you through the experience. When they soften their voices, you'll lean in because what they have to say is important. They say the things that keep us, the audience motivated. It's not meant to be hard, gut wrenching, therapeutic type of experience. It's more like...Do as we do, and make it your own experience.

This is couple has decided to put a dent in the divorce rate once and for all, and they are starting by getting to the problem before it even becomes a problem... taking the Ho-hum Passion of a relationship, moving it to HOT...taking the HOT passion in a relationship and moving it to Scorching...making every molecule in you and your partner's being vibrantly uncontrollable!
